

This dial will show you the constellation in which the sun is located during each month.

Cut out the pointer and fasten it on the sun in the center of the disk.

As the earth revolves around the sun, a different star group is hidden in the glare of the sun each month.

In what constellation would the sun seem to be located on your birthday?